

BSG Wireless and Tutela Technologies Announce Technology Partnership to Provide Comprehensive Wi-Fi Network Analytics

Posted on June 18, 2014

June 18, 2014 (London, UK) BSG Wireless, a subsidiary of Billing Services Group Limited ('BSG'), recognized as a leading provider of Wi-Fi solutions for delivering proven and reliable managed services into the growing Wi-Fi ecosystem, announced today a major partnership agreement with Tutela Technologies, a leading provider of real-time network quality analytics.

The partnership with Tutela will extend the capabilities of BSG's Wi-Fi Hotspot Finder and Connection Client solutions with consumer experience monitoring. This will provide BSG's global customer base of mobile carriers and network operators access to comprehensive analytic reports for network planning, management and marketing.

"It is a major benefit to our customers that we are now able to offer them a full set of crowd-sourced metrics and network reports to support network planning and management, as well as provide marketing departments insights into their subscriber's behavior," said Atul Devani, CEO of BSG Wireless. "As service providers roll out their Wi-Fi footprint and wireless services, such as video, we can do more to encourage adoption and promote a positive experience. We now visually report on the best sites for new Wi-Fi installs and identify access points requiring maintenance using over 60 unique network measurements of network and video service quality."

"We are delighted to be partnering with BSG Wireless," said Hunter Macdonald, CEO of Tutela Technologies. "This relationship enables us to extend our quality of experience planning and management platform to BSG's unique service provider applications. Together we have a very compelling solution for quality of service optimization and churn reduction."
