

BSG selects Private Communications Corporation to provide secure VPN Wi-Fi connectivity.

Posted on October 14, 2015

October 14, 2015 (San Antonio, TX) BSG Wireless, a subsidiary of Billing Services Group Limited ('BSG'), today announced a strategic partnership with Private Communications Corporation, a leader in network security, data compression and other Internet utilities.

The partnership with Private Communications Corporation allows BSG to offer secure public Wi-Fi connections utilizing VPN connectivity through its Find and Connect device client. Additional capabilities include service provider policy management and data compression. This enhancement to BSG Wireless's market leading Find & Connect Service further enhances BSG Wireless' commitment to user privacy and security.

"It is a major benefit to our customers that we are now able to offer them a full set of solutions that help carriers offer secure Wi-Fi connections to their end-users" said Richard Scott, CEO of BSG Wireless. "Additionally, the policy management and data compression capabilities allow us to meet our customer's future needs for enhanced network management"

"We are delighted to be partnering with BSG Wireless," said Alok Kapur, COO of Private Communications Corporation. "This relationship enables us to extend our VPN and policy platform, and integrate it with BSG's market leading device applications and interconnection services. Together we have a very compelling solution for network security and management."

In addition to providing the Find and Connect service, BSG Wireless also has solutions to provide Wi-Fi roaming interconnection services, directory services, network analytics and both location-aware and location-based services.
